BILL MALLIA TO APPEAR AT CIA SUMMIT 2009 IN NASHVILLE

Cape Cod, MA, Thursday, 6 November 2008 - - Christian music's favorite beach bum, Bill Mallia, will be making two appearances at this year's CIA Summit 2009 in Nashville, TN. Fans can catch the first show on Thursday, March 26th during the Indie Showcase and again on Friday, March 27 at The Foundry Coffeehouse. Both events are open to the public.

The Christian Independent Alliance (CIA) Summit will be held March 25-28, 2009 in music city - Nashville, Tennessee. It has become known as the must-attend-event where the Christian music industry's top independent Christian musicians and writers come to hone their skills, discuss the state of the industry and identify opportunities to serve God with their craft. The CIA Summit 2009 will be hosted and moderated by Indieheaven founder, Keith Mohr. Keith has worked with thousands of indie artists for many years, helping them fulfill their missions.

Bill serves up a unique style of Christian music that's garnished with a smile and served under a palm tree. His concerts are known as "the most fun a Christian can have while wearing an Aloha shirt" while Bill's music is made up of happy, feel good, sunshiny tunes with overtly Christian lyrics that are born of his extensive travels throughout the Caribbean and other tropical locales.
